SECTION A

COMPREHENSION

Read the passages below carefully and answer the questions that follow by choosing the most appropriate of the options lettered A – E (Nos. 1 – 10).

PASSAGE I

A good night sleep is very important for your health. Your brain and your body use that time to do all kinds of things that they cannot do when you are awake. How much sleep do you need? Every person is a little different, but many experts say that children need about ten hours of sleep per night. So if you wake up at seven o'clock to go to school, you should be going to bed by nine o'clock at night.

Sometimes it is not easy to fall asleep quickly, though you might have a lot of energy, or you might be excited about something. When you are worried about something, then it is hard to get sleepy. Here are some things you can do to make it easier for you to get the sleep you need: keep your body in a routine of going to bed at the same time every night; do something calming right before bedtime, such as taking a warm bath or reading; limit sodas, iced tea and other foods and drinks that contain caffeine; turn off your TV when it is time to sleep or better still, don't have a TV in your bedroom. Studies have shown that children who have a TV in their rooms sleep less. Don't watch scary TV shows or movies close to bedtime because these can sometimes make it hard for one to fall asleep. Exercise during the day will help you sleep better at night. But don't exercise just before going to bed; don't do homework, play games or talk on the phone in bed. Use your bed just for sleeping and train your body to associate the bed with sleep.

PASSAGE II

I had always lived in fear of water. When my friends practised swimming, I had always stayed away because my mother had made me promise her never to go swimming and I kept this promise very well.

On this day, after spending a long time at the stream, trying in vain to catch fish, my friends pulled off their clothes and jumped into the stream. I stood on the bank watching them. They jeered at me and called me "his mother's son." I was tempted to get into the water to prove to them that I was not the fool they took me for.

I was still gazing attentively at the stream when one boy, who had quietly crept behind me, gave me a push. I fell heavily into the water. I was in my clothes and could not swim. I tried to shout, but I took in a gulp of water each time.

I went deep down and it was dark; I was pushed up again and I saw daylight. It was then I heard the boys laughing at me. Down I went again and felt I was going to drown and these wicked boys were going to continue laughing until I die. At that moment, I remembered my mother and even my sister and felt sorry for them. They would weep and weep when I was gone. I felt sorry for myself; I was going to die young.

Then a hand gripped me by the waist and at first I wanted to hold tight to this hand. But when I knew that it was trying to save me I controlled myself. When I was pulled out, I was tired.
